BRICK STREETS LOST

Court of Appeals Sustains Judge C. D. Newell's Decision On the Local Brick Streets Question.

Hon. J. M. Collins, attorney for the plaintiffs in the suit of I. M. Lane, et als. vs. City of Maysville and Ruh & Schmidt Construction Company, to restrain the city from building brick streets on East Second street, received a message from Frankfort late Friday afternoon, saying that Judge C. D. Newell, of the Court of Appeals, has affirmed the decision of Circuit Judge C. D. Newell, holding the brick streets ordinance illegal on the ground that it had not been passed by a two-thirds vote of Council and granting the restraining order. The decision of the Court of Appeals was not unexpected, as in the opinion of many the law was very clear. It is not known what the action of the city will be.

This decision again brings to mind the remarkable record of Circuit Judge C. D. Newell, whose opinions have been sustained in forty-seven out of sixty-seven cases appealed from his court.

The condition of the treasury was satisfactory.

President Sulser reappointed Mr. T. M. Russell, W. C. Watkins and J. D. Dye as managers of the Washington Opera House for the next year. Messrs. M. J. McCarthy, J. H. Dodson and John McAuliffe were appointed as the auditing committee. The regular election of officers is held at the January meeting.

FRIDAY'S CHAUTAUQUA

Program Is Interesting and Instructive—Attendance Good.

The Chautauqua program for Friday contained interesting and instructive features fully up to the standard of Redpath attractions. In the morning Dr. Thornton Anthony Mills, who is especially gifted with the attributes of a successful lecturer and who talks upon literature, philosophy and sociology in such manner as to place these subjects understandingly and interestingly before his hearers, delivered a splendid lecture upon "The Melting Pot."

In the afternoon there was a musical prelude by the Kentucky Entertainers, who rendered some beautiful selections and are deserving of the title entertainers. Mr. Spiegel of this company has studied with Franz Wagner and his execution gives evidence of association with the master. The lady members of this troupe are from the Blue Grass state, which, besides the talent they displayed, added interest to their number.

The children's hour was given to Indian folk tales and dancing, and singing games. Miss Fruin conducted this feature in the pavilion of Beechwood Park and this is sufficient guarantee that the hour was instructive and entertaining to the young ones. Miss Fruin thoroughly understands children, their instruction and amusement and an hour with her is of great benefit to the young ones.

Mr. Harry Atwood, formerly field secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce and a man of national caliber whose services are in great demand by commercial organizations, spoke forcibly upon "Team Work and Business Problems." Mr. Atwood is a convincing as well as an entertaining speaker, shows a thorough knowledge of his subject and holds the attention of his audience to the last sentence. His talk, while interesting to the general public, was especially so to the business men and fortunate were those who took advantage of the opportunity to hear him.

The Kentucky Entertainers opened the evening session with a musical prelude, which, if anything, surpassed their afternoon performance. Dr. Herbert L. Willett, whose lectures have attracted wide attention, both in this country and abroad, delivered a lecture on the "New Continents," which was intensely interesting from beginning to end. Dr. Willett is a master of the art of lecturing and handles the most intricate subjects so clearly that they become as an open book before the audience.

INSTALL OFFICERS

Limestone Lodge K. of P., Meet Friday Night and Install Officers.

Limestone Lodge No. 36, Knights of Pythias, met Friday night in their Castle Hall on West Second street and installed their newly-elected officers, Grand Chancellor Sherman Ann being the installing officer. The newly-elected officers are:

Chancellor—Commander—G. A. Helmer.
Vice Chancellor—George A. Hill.
Prelate—Henry Helmer.
Master of Work—Walter Rudy.
Master at Arms—Robert Brodt.
Inner Guard—C. E. Dietrich.
Outer Guard—Joseph Thompson.

Reports were read from the retiring officers which showed the lodge to be in splendid condition financially, with a total membership of more than 200.

The Lodge is planning a campaign for more members in the fall and hope to strengthen its membership very materially.

THE SHOWS.

The Gem presented another one of the "Girl Detective" series. These films are taking the city by storm and when one of them is announced, the house is filled with followers of the clever girl who never fails to ferret the mystery.

The Washington Opera House presented a good line of films and a fine bill of vaudeville. Dan Forts presented an old-time Punch and Judy show, which pleased immensely. His control of the figures was remarkable and it was hard to believe that the figures were not human. Baker and Walters gave a neat little singing act. Mr. Baker is a performer of national note and was well received by the audience. His song of "The Nations," a song in ten dialects, was very fine. Miss Walters was especially fine and her rendition of the "Song My Mother Used To Sing" was applauded time and time again. This is a splendid act and is worthy of the applause it received.

Mr. Harry Proctor came up from Covington Friday night and joined his wife and family for the week end, visiting with his father-in-law, Mr. A. P. Stiles, on Houston avenue.

PALM BEACH SUITS

Notwithstanding the heavy sales of the season we still have some very attractive models in Palm Beach Suits at $7.50 to $12.50.

WHAT IS PALM BEACH CLOTH?

A washable fabric that needs no starch to preserve its crispness, because the crispness is part of the texture. A trade-marked name applied to an ideal summer fabric made exclusively by Goodall Worsted Company of Sanford, Maine.

A cloth that is feather-light, yet shape-retaining—
A cloth that washes as readily as linen—and needs no starch—
A cloth that is porous, durable, and inexpensive—
A cloth with a peculiar, crisp, semi-lustrous finish that makes it at once dust-proof, sanitary and beautiful—

Palm Beach is the ideal summer fabric for suits. Its unique texture and finish are a result of long study, and step by step development.

Remember there is only one GENUINE PALM BEACH. The name is trade-marked and dare not be applied to other cloths. The label is your insurance against deception and imitation.
